

The Flag of The Boers (Tranvaal Republic)

The Four-color flag is actually based upon the Brigade colours of the main tribes of Israel.

Green stands for Ephraim, represented in the Coat of Arms of the ZAR (Transvaal Republic) by an ox wagon, which represents an ox.

Red stands for Judah, represented by a lion.

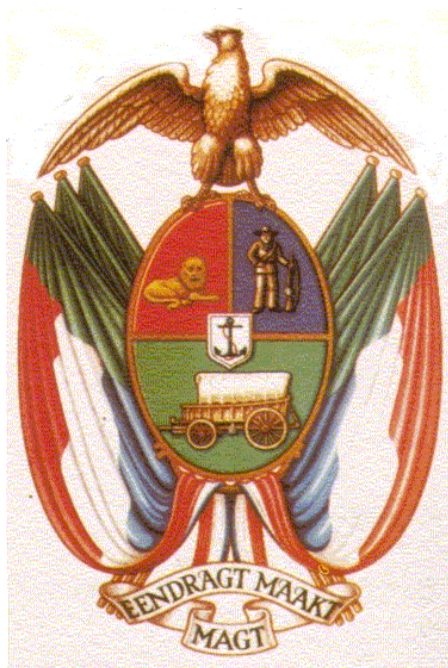

White represents Ruben (the man)

Blue represents Dan (Eagle in the sky)

The anchor is supposed to stand for the Messiah, but also refers to Zebulon (Netherlands).

background colours.

Note that the symbols in the coat of arms are not placed on their appropriate

The Four-color Flag is generally accepted by all factions of the Boerevolk as the ethnic flag under which we are prepared to go into war for Yahweh, for our ethnic unit (Israel-remnant/Boerevolk), and is used at all Boerevolk ethnic rallies and by all Israelites/Identity Christian groups.

It is not used by non-Boerevolk or anti-Boerevolk people.